

Supplemental figure 2. S27D does not affect the distribution of junctional proteins. HUVECs were incubated with S27D for 60 minutes and lysates were separated in a Triton-X100 insoluble and soluble fraction. The insoluble fraction was analyzed on Western blot, which showed that S27D did not affect the distribution of the proteins between the cytosolic and cytoskeleton fraction. Actin was included as a loading control.